CPH rain (80 x 100 cm acrylics)

2000 €

In summer I make drawings in town in Copenhagen, which I later use as inspiration for paintings in oil or acrylics in the atelier during winter. For CPH rain I used the sketch to the left, and introduced purple's and blue's and mirror effects to express the wet night town full of reflections.

I am a self taught painter. During the last 10 years I have been working in oil and acrylics in a studio in Copenhagen. I use a painting style inspired by Cézanne, Kleé and followers. I like to work in a studio in a process with fellow artists integrating lines, tones, colors and emotions into what I have coined “zonation” paintings. The picture to the left: In the studio reflects this passion.

“Freedom's just another word for nothing left to lose”, I guess I had this tune by Janis Joplin in my head when painting the picture to the right. Together is ambiguity, a mixture of figurative and abstract illustrating the strong interdependency between humans and their natural environments. I use the term “ecozones-in-the-mind” to express this relation, my mental model expressed in colors, tones and lines on top of the blues.
